1. Question Tags

Rules and Explanation

Question tags are short questions added at the end of statements to seek confirmation, agreement, or to encourage a response. They consist of an auxiliary verb and a pronoun.[1] [2] [3]

Basic Rule

- Positive statement → Negative question tag
- Negative statement → Positive question tag

Detailed Rules

Rule 1: Basic Formation
If the statement is positive, use a negative question tag, and vice versa.[3] [1]

- She can swim, can't she?
- They aren't coming, are they?

Rule 2: Auxiliary Verb Agreement
The auxiliary verb in the tag must match the tense of the main verb.[2] [3]

- He is working → isn't he?
- They have finished → haven't they?

Rule 3: Special Cases with "Let's"
After "let's", the tag begins with "shall".[2]

- Let's invite the neighbours over for dinner on the weekend, shall we?

Rule 4: "I am" Exception
Use "aren't I" in tags to mean "I am not".[2]

- I'm on time, aren't I? (correct)
- I'm on time, am't I? (incorrect)

Rule 5: Polite Request Tags
Use "won't" for polite request tags.[2]

- You'll bring the other things, won't you?

Rule 6: Imperative Sentences
Use "will you?" or "would you?" with imperative sentences (commands).[2]

- Wait here until I return, will you?
- Wait here until I return, would you?

Rule 7: Modal "Must"
Use "mustn't" with the modal "must".[2]

- This must be the address, mustn't it?

Rule 8: Verb "Have" as Main Verb
Two endings are possible when "have" is the main verb.[2]

- You have enough money, haven't you? (British English)
- You have enough money, don't you? (North American English)

Rule 9: Pronoun Usage
Use pronouns for people, not proper names, in question tags.[2]

- Paul is a good tennis player, isn't he?
- Betty has a good job, hasn't she?

Rule 10: Demonstrative Pronouns

- Use "it" when the sentence includes "this" or "that"[2]
  - This is your pen, isn't it?
- Use "they" when the sentence includes "these" or "those"[2]
  - Those are your sandals, aren't they?

Rule 11: "There + be" Construction
Use "there" in a question tag when sentences include "there + a form of be".[2]

- There is a lot of work to do today, isn't there?

Rule 12: Indefinite Pronouns
Use "they" with indefinite pronouns (nobody, no one, someone, somebody, everyone, everybody).[2]

- Everyone is here now, aren't they?
- Nobody has eaten yet, have they?

Rule 13: "Used to"
Use "didn't" in question tags when the sentence includes "used to".[2]

- You used to go skating very often, didn't you?

3. Determiners & Quantifiers

Rules and Explanation

Determiners are words that come before nouns to specify or clarify their meaning. Quantifiers tell us how much or how many of something there is.[8] [9]

Types of Determiners

1. Articles

- Definite: the
- Indefinite: a, an
- Rules:
  - Use "a" before consonant sounds: a car
  - Use "an" before vowel sounds: an orange
  - Use "the" for specific nouns: the moon[8]

2. Demonstratives

- Near: this (singular), these (plural)
- Far: that (singular), those (plural)[8]

3. Possessives

- My, your, his, her, its, our, their[8]

4. Quantifiers

- For countable nouns: many, few, several, a few
- For uncountable nouns: much, little, a little
- For both: some, any, all, most, enough[9] [8]

Grammar Rules

Rule 1: Determiners always come before the noun.[9] [8]

- The big dog ✓
- Big the dog ✗

Rule 2: Usually only one main determiner per noun phrase.[8]

- My car ✓
- My the car ✗

Rule 3: Determiners are essential for singular countable nouns.[8]

- I saw a cat ✓
- I saw cat ✗

Rule 4: Optional for plural and uncountable nouns.[8]

- Dogs bark ✓ (general)
- The dogs are barking ✓ (specific)

Quantifier Rules

Rule 1: Use correct quantifiers with noun types.[9]

- Many: countable nouns (many students)
- Much: uncountable nouns (much water)
- Few/A few: countable nouns (few cars)
- Little/A little: uncountable nouns (little time)

Rule 2: Positive vs. Negative meanings.[10]

- Few/Little: negative meaning (not many/much)
- A few/A little: positive meaning (some)

4. Subject–Verb Agreement

Rules and Explanation

Subject-verb agreement means that subjects and verbs must agree in number - singular subjects take singular verbs, and plural subjects take plural verbs.[11] [12] [13]

Basic Rules

Rule 1: Basic Agreement

- Singular subject + singular verb[12] [13]
  - Rachel spends her free time listening to music.
- Plural subject + plural verb[13] [12]
  - Blaine and Kurt play the piano.

Rule 2: "Be" Verb Agreement[13]
Special rules apply for the verb "be":

Person	Pronoun	Verb	Example
First person singular	I	am	I am confident
First person plural	We	are	We are confident
Second person	You	are	You are confident
Third person singular	He/She/It	is	He is confident
Third person plural	They	are	They are confident

Rule 3: Compound Subjects with "And" [14]
Two or more subjects joined by "and" require a plural verb.

- Jan, John, and Bob walk to the store.

Rule 4: "Each" or "Every" Modification[14]
If a subject is modified by "each" or "every," it is singular.

- Each boy and girl walks to the store.

Rule 5: Subjects Joined by "Or," "Nor," or "But" [14]
The verb agrees with the subject closest to it.

- Either Bob or his brother walks to the store.
- Neither Bob nor his brothers walk to the store.

Rule 6: Indefinite Pronouns [14]
Most indefinite pronouns are singular and take singular verbs.

- Everyone walks to the store.
- Everything comes back eventually.

Advanced Rules

Rule 7: Collective Nouns [11]
Collective nouns can be singular or plural depending on context.

- The team is ready. (team as unit)
- The team are arguing. (individual members)

Rule 8: Phrases Between Subject and Verb [11]
The verb agrees with the subject, not words in prepositional phrases.

- The box of chocolates is on the table.

Rule 9: Inverted Sentences
In sentences beginning with "there" or "here," the subject follows the verb.

- There are many students in the classroom.

Rules and Explanation

Wh-questions are questions that begin with question words (what, when, where, who, whom, which, whose, why, how) and ask for specific information.[18] [19] [20] [21] [22]

Question Words and Their Uses

Question Word	Purpose	Example
What	Things, actions, information	What is your name?
When	Time	When did you arrive?
Where	Place	Where do you live?
Who	Person (subject)	Who called you?
Whom	Person (object)	Whom did you see?
Which	Choice between options	Which book do you prefer?
Whose	Possession	Whose car is this?
Why	Reason	Why are you late?
How	Method, manner	How do you make this?

Formation Rules

Rule 1: With Auxiliary Verbs[19] [21]
Structure: Wh-word + auxiliary verb + subject + main verb

- Where do you live?
- What did he say?
- When are you leaving?

Rule 2: Without Auxiliary Verbs (Subject Questions)[21] [19]
When the wh-word is the subject, no auxiliary verb is needed.
Structure: Wh-word + main verb + object

- Who called you?
- What happened?
- Which student won?

Rule 3: With Modal Verbs[18]
Structure: Wh-word + modal verb + subject + main verb

- What should we do?
- Where can she go?
- Who would you invite?

Rule 4: With "Be" Verb[18]
Structure: Wh-word + be + subject + complement

- Where are you going?
- What is your name?
- Who was that person?

Subject vs. Object Questions

Subject Questions: The wh-word replaces the subject[18]

- Who wrote this book? (Someone wrote this book)
- What caused the accident? (Something caused the accident)

Object Questions: The wh-word replaces the object[18]

- Who did you call? (You called someone)

7. Frequency Adverbs

Rules and Explanation

Adverbs of frequency tell us how often something happens. They express the regularity or frequency of actions and are essential for describing habits and routines.[23] [24] [25] [26]

Common Frequency Adverbs (from most to least frequent)

Frequency Rate	Adverb	Meaning
100%	Always	Every time
90%	Usually	Most times
80%	Often/Frequently	Many times
70%	Sometimes	Some times
50%	Occasionally	From time to time
30%	Rarely/Seldom	Not often
10%	Hardly ever	Almost never
0%	Never	No times

Position Rules

Rule 1: Before Main Verbs[24] [26]
Frequency adverbs usually come before the main verb.

- She always practices the piano in the evenings.
- I usually have cereal for breakfast.
- They sometimes watch TV in the evenings.
- We never go to museums.

Rule 2: After "Be" Verbs[26]
When the main verb is "be," the adverb comes after it.

- They are usually on holiday in July.
- He is sometimes late for school.
- I am always happy to help.

Rule 3: Flexible Position[27]
Some adverbs (usually, sometimes, often) can also appear:

- At the beginning: Usually, I read before bed.
- At the end: I read before bed usually.

Rule 4: Questions with Frequency[26]
Use "often" or "how often" to ask about frequency.

- Does she play football often?

- How often do you play computer games?

Additional Frequency Expressions

Time Expressions

- Every day/week/month/year
- Once/twice/three times a day
- Daily, weekly, monthly, annually

Phrases

- Now and then
- From time to time
- Once in a while
- All the time

4. Sometimes
5. Rarely
6. Never
7. Frequently
8. Occasionally
9. Hardly ever
10. Seldom

8. Adjectives & Adverbs

Rules and Explanation

Adjectives modify nouns and pronouns, while adverbs modify verbs, adjectives, or other adverbs. Understanding their forms and usage is crucial for accurate communication.[28] [29] [30] [31]

Adjectives vs. Adverbs

Adjectives

- Modify nouns and pronouns
- Answer: What kind? Which? How many?
- Examples: beautiful, tall, three, this

Adverbs

- Modify verbs, adjectives, or other adverbs
- Answer: How? When? Where? How much?
- Many end in -ly: quickly, carefully, beautifully

Degrees of Comparison

1. Positive Degree
The basic form with no comparison.[29] [30]

- This car is fast.
- She sings beautifully.

2. Comparative Degree
Compares two things.[30] [29]

Formation Rules:

- One syllable: Add -er
  - tall → taller
  - fast → faster
- Ending in -e: Add -r
  - nice → nicer
  - large → larger
- CVC pattern: Double final consonant + -er
  - big → bigger
  - hot → hotter
- Ending in -y: Change -y to -i + -er

    - happy → happier
    - easy → easier
- Two+ syllables: Use "more"
    - beautiful → more beautiful
    - expensive → more expensive

3. Superlative Degree
Shows the highest degree among three or more.[29] [30]

Formation Rules:

- One syllable: Add -est
    - tall → tallest
    - fast → fastest
- Ending in -e: Add -st
    - nice → nicest
- CVC pattern: Double final consonant + -est
    - big → biggest
- Ending in -y: Change -y to -i + -est
    - happy → happiest
- Two+ syllables: Use "most"
    - beautiful → most beautiful

Irregular Forms

Positive	Comparative	Superlative
good	better	best
bad	worse	worst
far	farther/further	farthest/furthest little	less	least
much/many	more	most

Adverb Formation

Regular Formation[28]

- Add -ly to adjectives: quick → quickly
- Adjectives ending in -y: change to -ily: easy → easily
- Adjectives ending in -le: change to -ly: simple → simply

Comparative and Superlative Adverbs[32]

- Most adverbs use "more" and "most"
  - carefully → more carefully → most carefully
- Some short adverbs add -er/-est
  - fast → faster → fastest
  - early → earlier → earliest

9. Reported Speech

Rules and Explanation

Reported speech (also called indirect speech) is used to report what someone said without using their exact words. It involves changes in tense, pronouns, and time expressions.[33] [34] [35] [36] [37] [38]

Basic Structure

Direct Speech: He said, "I am happy."
Reported Speech: He said that he was happy.

Key Changes in Reported Speech

1. Reporting Verbs[34] [38]

Common reporting verbs: said, told, asked, replied, explained, mentioned, declared

2. Tense Changes (Backshifting)[35] [33] [34]

Direct Speech	Reported Speech
Simple Present → Simple Past	"I work" → He said he worked
Present Continuous → Past Continuous	"I am working" → He said he was working
Present Perfect → Past Perfect	"I have worked" → He said he had worked
Simple Past → Past Perfect	"I worked" → He said he had worked
Past Continuous → Past Perfect Continuous	"I was working" → He said he had been working
Future (will) → Conditional (would)	"I will work" → He said he would work

3. Modal Verb Changes[36] [33]

- Can → could
- May → might
- Must → had to
- Will → would
- Shall → should

4. Pronoun Changes[34] [35]

Direct Speech Pronoun	Reported Speech Change
I, we	Changes according to subject
You	Changes according to object
He, she, it, they	Usually no change

5. Time and Place Expression Changes[34]

Direct Speech	Reported Speech
now	then
today	that day
tomorrow	the next day
yesterday	the previous day

Direct Speech	Reported Speech
here	there
this	that these	those

Types of Reported Speech

1. Statements[33] [36]
Use "that" (optional):

- Direct: She said, "I like chocolate."
- Reported: She said (that) she liked chocolate.

2. Questions[33]

- Yes/No questions: Use "if" or "whether"
  - Direct: He asked, "Are you coming?"
  - Reported: He asked if/whether I was coming.
- Wh-questions: Keep the question word
  - Direct: She asked, "Where do you live?"
  - Reported: She asked where I lived.

3. Commands/Requests[36] [33]
Use "to + infinitive":

- Direct: She said, "Please help me."
- Reported: She requested me to help her.
- Direct: He said, "Don't smoke here."
- Reported: He told me not to smoke there.

4. Exclamations[36]
Change to statements:

- Direct: She said, "What a beautiful day!"
- Reported: She exclaimed that it was a beautiful day.

Mary replied, "What was it about?"
John answered, "It was about space exploration. You would enjoy it."
Mary said, "I will definitely watch it this weekend."

10. Conditional Sentences

Rules and Explanation

Conditional sentences express situations where one thing depends on another. They consist of two clauses: the if-clause (condition) and the main clause (result). There are four main types of conditionals.[39]

Types of Conditional Sentences

1. Zero Conditional (General Truths)
Used for facts, general truths, and scientific laws.
Structure: If + present simple, present simple

- If you heat water to 100°C, it boils.
- If it rains, the ground gets wet.

2. First Conditional (Real Possibilities)[39]
Used for real and possible situations in the future.
Structure: If + present simple, will + base verb

- If it rains, I will stay home.
- If you study hard, you will pass the exam.

3. Second Conditional (Unreal/Hypothetical)[39]
Used for unreal or improbable situations in present or future.
Structure: If + past simple, would + base verb

- If I won the lottery, I would buy a house.
- If I were you, I would take the job.

4. Third Conditional (Past Unreal)
Used for situations that didn't happen in the past.
Structure: If + past perfect, would have + past participle

- If I had studied harder, I would have passed the exam.
- If she had left earlier, she wouldn't have missed the train.

Special Notes

Mixed Conditionals
Combine different time references:

- If I had studied medicine (past), I would be a doctor now (present).

Unless = If not

- Unless you hurry, you'll be late. = If you don't hurry, you'll be late.

Alternative Structures

- Replace "would" with "could," "might," or "should"
- If I had time, I could help you.

11. Passive Voice

Rules and Explanation

Passive voice is used when the focus is on the action or the receiver of the action rather than the doer. In passive voice, the subject receives the action instead of performing it.[40]

Active vs. Passive Voice

Active Voice: Subject + Verb + Object

- The teacher graded the papers.

Passive Voice: Subject + be + Past Participle (+ by + agent)

- The papers were graded by the teacher.

Formation of Passive Voice

Structure: Subject + appropriate form of "be" + past participle

Passive Voice in Different Tenses

Tense	Active	Passive
Simple Present	He writes letters	Letters are written by him
Present Continuous	He is writing letters	Letters are being written by him
Present Perfect	He has written letters	Letters have been written by him

Tense	Active	Passive
Simple Past	He wrote letters	Letters were written by him
Past Continuous	He was writing letters	Letters were being written by him
Past Perfect	He had written letters	Letters had been written by him
Simple Future	He will write letters	Letters will be written by him
Future Perfect	He will have written letters	Letters will have been written by him

When to Use Passive Voice

1. When the doer is unknown or unimportant
   - My car was stolen. (We don't know who stole it)
2. When the action is more important than the doer
   - The meeting has been cancelled. (Focus on the cancellation)
3. In formal or scientific writing
   - The experiment was conducted carefully.
4. To avoid mentioning the doer
   - Mistakes were made. (Avoiding responsibility)

Rules for Converting Active to Passive

1. Object becomes subject
2. Use appropriate form of "be"
3. Add past participle of main verb
4. Original subject becomes "by + agent" (optional)

12. Future Tenses & Prepositions

Rules and Explanation

Future tenses express actions that will happen after the present moment. English has several ways to express future time, each with specific uses and contexts.[41]

Types of Future Tenses

1. Simple Future Tense[41]
Structure: Subject + will/shall + base verb
Uses:

- Future plans or predictions
- Promises and offers
- Decisions made at the moment of speaking

Examples:

- I will finish my homework this evening.
- She will travel tomorrow.
- They will help you.

2. Future Continuous Tense[41]
Structure: Subject + will/shall be + verb-ing
Uses:

- Actions in progress at a specific time in the future
- Future arrangements

Examples:

- She will be attending class at 10 AM.
- I will be studying at 6 PM tomorrow.

3. Future Perfect Tense[41]
Structure: Subject + will/shall have + past participle
Uses:

- Actions completed before a specific time in the future

Examples:

- They will have finished the work by Friday.
- I will have graduated by next year.

4. Future Perfect Continuous Tense[41]
Structure: Subject + will/shall have been + verb-ing
Uses:

- Actions continuing up to a specific time in the future
- Duration of actions in the future

Examples:

- He will have been working here for five years by December.
- She will have been studying for three hours.

Other Ways to Express Future

1. Going to

- Planned actions: I am going to visit my friend.
- Predictions based on evidence: It's going to rain. (looking at clouds)

2. Present Continuous for Future

- Fixed arrangements: I am meeting him tomorrow.

3. Simple Present for Future

- Scheduled events: The train leaves at 8 PM.

Will vs. Shall

Will: Used with all persons (modern English)
Shall: Traditionally used with I and we (formal English)

Common Prepositions

13. Advanced Connectives

Rules and Explanation

Advanced connectives are sophisticated linking words and phrases that create complex relationships between ideas in academic and formal writing. They enhance coherence and demonstrate advanced language skills.[42]

Categories of Advanced Connectives

1. Correlative Conjunctions[42]
These work in pairs to connect elements of equal importance.

Conjunction Pair	Function	Example
both...and	Addition	Both my sister and my brother play piano
either...or	Choice	Either Mozart or Beethoven
neither...nor	Negative choice	Neither the orchestra nor the chorus
not only...but also	Emphasis	Not only does Sue raise money, but she also volunteers

2. Subordinating Conjunctions[42]

Time-based:

- after, before, when, while, since, until
- After we finished dinner, we watched a movie.

Cause and Effect:

- because, since, now that, as, in order that, so
- Since you asked, I'll explain the process.

Opposition:

- although, though, even though, whereas, while
- Although it was raining, we continued our hike.

Condition:

- if, unless, only if, whether or not, even if, in case
- Unless you study harder, you won't pass.

3. Advanced Transitional Phrases

Cause and Effect:

- consequently, accordingly, hence, thus, therefore, as a result, for this reason

Contrast and Concession:

- nevertheless, nonetheless, however, on the contrary, conversely, in contrast, despite this

Addition and Emphasis:

- furthermore, moreover, in addition, what's more, besides, additionally

Exemplification:

- namely, specifically, in particular, that is to say, to illustrate

Summary and Conclusion:

- in summary, to conclude, in brief, ultimately, on the whole

Usage Rules

Rule 1: Punctuation with Transitional Adverbs
Use semicolons before and commas after transitional adverbs between independent clauses.

- The weather was terrible; nevertheless, we enjoyed our trip.

Rule 2: Correlative Conjunctions Parallelism
Maintain parallel structure with correlative conjunctions.

- She is not only intelligent but also hardworking. ✓
- She is not only intelligent but also works hard. ✗

Rule 3: Subordinating Conjunction Placement
Subordinating conjunctions can begin sentences or join clauses within sentences.

- Because it was late, we decided to leave.
- We decided to leave because it was late.

16. Past Tenses

Rules and Explanation

Past tenses describe actions or states that occurred before the present moment. English has four main past tenses, each with specific uses and time relationships.

Types of Past Tenses

1. Simple Past Tense
Structure: Subject + past form of verb
Uses:

- Completed actions in the past
- Past habits or repeated actions
- Sequential past actions

Examples:

- I visited London last year.
- She played tennis every weekend.
- He arrived, sat down, and opened his book.

Formation:

- Regular verbs: add -ed (walk → walked)
- Irregular verbs: special forms (go → went, see → saw)

2. Past Continuous Tense
Structure: Subject + was/were + verb-ing
Uses:

- Actions in progress at a specific past time
- Background actions in stories

18. Would / Used to

Rules and Explanation

Both "would" and "used to" are used to describe past habits and repeated actions, but they have different uses and restrictions. Understanding these differences is crucial for accurate communication about past situations.

"Used to"

Structure: Subject + used to + base verb

Uses:

1. Past habits that no longer exist
   - I used to smoke, but I quit last year.
   - She used to play tennis when she was younger.
2. Past states that are no longer true
   - This area used to be farmland.
   - He used to be very shy.
3. Both actions and states

- We used to go to the beach every summer. (action)
- There used to be a cinema here. (state)

Negative: Subject + didn't use to + base verb

- I didn't use to like vegetables.

Question: Did + subject + use to + base verb?

- Did you use to live here?

"Would"

Structure: Subject + would + base verb

Uses:

1. Past habits and repeated actions only (not states)
   - Every morning, he would go for a walk.
   - She would always arrive early.
2. Often used in storytelling and reminiscing
   - When I was a child, I would spend hours reading.

Restrictions:

- Cannot be used for past states
  - I used to be tall. ✓
  - I would be tall. ✗
- Cannot be used with stative verbs (be, have, know, etc.)
  - She used to know him well. ✓
  - She would know him well. ✗

Key Differences

Aspect	Used to	Would
Past habits	✓	✓
Past states	✓	✗
Stative verbs	✓	✗
First mention	✓	✗
Storytelling	✓	✓ (after context)

"Be used to" vs. "Used to"

Be used to: Means "be accustomed to"

- I am used to working late. (I'm accustomed to it)
- She isn't used to the cold weather.

Get used to: Means "become accustomed to"

- I'm getting used to my new job.

19. Adjective Order

Rules and Explanation

When multiple adjectives are used to describe a noun, they must follow a specific order in English. This order is largely fixed and follows a logical sequence based on the type of information each adjective provides.

The Standard Order of Adjectives

1. Opinion (beautiful, nice, ugly, interesting)
2. Size (big, small, large, tiny)
3. Age (old, new, young, ancient)
4. Shape (round, square, long, flat)
5. Color (red, blue, green, black)

6. Origin (American, Chinese, European)
7. Material (wooden, plastic, metal, cotton)
8. Purpose (sleeping, cooking, sports)

Memory Device: OSASCMP
"Opinion Size Age Shape Color Material Purpose"

Examples of Adjective Order

- A beautiful small old round red Chinese wooden jewelry box
- An interesting young American football player
- A lovely big new square dining table
- An ugly old metal cooking pot

Rules and Guidelines

Rule 1: Limit the Number
Avoid using too many adjectives. Generally, 2-3 adjectives are sufficient.

- Good: a beautiful old house
- Awkward: a beautiful big old square white American wooden family house

Rule 2: Commas with Opinion Adjectives
Use commas between opinion adjectives of equal rank.

- It was a dark, stormy night.
- She wore a beautiful, elegant dress.

Rule 3: No Commas with Different Types
Don't use commas when adjectives are from different categories.

- A small red car (size + color)
- An old wooden table (age + material)

Rule 4: Determiners Come First
Articles, demonstratives, and possessives precede all adjectives.

- The beautiful old house
- This small round table
- My new blue car

Special Cases

Compound Adjectives
These are treated as single units:

- A well-known American actor
- A good-looking young man

Adjectives as Nouns
When adjectives function as nouns, normal order applies:

- The old and the young (people)
- The rich and the poor
